PETITION FOR A TEMPORARY RESTRAINING ORDER AND EMERGENCY HEARING

JEANETTE W. McBRIDE
CLERK
S.C. & G.S.

2012 NOV - 8 AM 11:39

RICHLAND COUNTY
FILED

Pursuant to Rules 64 and 65, SCRCP, Plaintiff respectfully moves for an ex parte order that all votes cast in the November 6, 2012 general election for State House District 75 (HD-75) be seized from the Defendants and deposited into the safe-keeping of the State Law Enforcement Division (SLED) until such time that a full hearing on this matter can be held and provisions can be made under the supervision of this Court for an independent, manual recount of all ballots cast. Plaintiff also seeks an emergency hearing on this matter. This drastic remedy is sought as a result of the lawless manner in which the Defendants have conducted the general election and the counting of ballots. This Court's intervention is necessary to prevent the irreparable injury of the loss or miscounting of votes believed to be determinative of the outcome in HD-75.

PARTIES

1. Plaintiff South Carolina Democratic Party (SCDP) is a political party capable of nominating candidates to appear on the general election ballot, including candidates for the State House of Representatives, HD-75.

2. Plaintiff Amanda Alpert Loveday is the Executive Director of the SCDP.
3. Defendant Richland County Election Commission (RCEC) is an agency of the County of Richland charged by law with conducting local, state and national elections in Richland County.
4. Defendant Lillian McBride is the Executive Director of the RCEC. She is sued in her official capacity.
5. Defendant M. Elizabeth Crum is the Chair of the RCEC. She is sued in her official capacity.

FACTS

6. On November 6, 2012, RCEC conducted the 2012 general election.
7. One of offices voters voted to fill in this election was HD-75. Two candidates were on the ballot competing for HD-75: Democrat Joe McCulloch and Republican Kirkman Finlay.

Even though provisional and failsafe ballots are yet to be counted in this race, this Petition asks this Court to intervene immediately to protect the integrity of this election because it is clear based on the initial returns that this race will be very close and has already been impacted by numerous irregularities that threaten to undermine the legitimacy of the election.

8. The 2012 general election in Richland County was marred by irregularities stemming from the illegal conduct of the Defendants.
9. Richland County voters waited as long as five or six hours to exercise their fundamental right to vote.

10. These long lines were attributed to an inadequate number of voting machines and a large number of voting machines that became inoperable while voting was occurring.
11. South Carolina law requires the use of one voting machine per 250 registered voters. S.C. Code Ann. § 7-13-680.
12. The RCEC failed to provide the statutorily required number of voting machines, failed to provide additional necessary machines, and failed to make timely repairs of numerous inoperable machines.
13. As a result of the RCEC's illegal conduct in failing to provide voters with adequate voting equipment, polling locations around the county remained open late into the night with voters casting ballots as late as 10:00 p.m.
14. Once polling locations were closed, the RCEC failed to properly "close out" voting machines. This procedure transfers data from the voting machines used by voters to a cartridge that combines all the votes cast in that polling location. This cartridge is then used to create a printout of the results in that polling location.
15. Prior to transporting the cartages to the RCEC headquarters, poll managers are required to print the results for their polling location and post it on the door of the polling location.
16. Once the "close out" procedure is complete, the cartages and one of the voting machines from each precinct is transported to the RCEC headquarters at 2020 Hampton Street, Columbia, South Carolina where the RCEC totals the votes cast in all precincts.
17. Many precincts failed to properly "close out" their vote totals and post them.
18. Some precincts were unable to complete this procedure because the voting machines lost power after their batteries died.
19. Other precincts failed to complete this procedure as a result of human error.

20. This required the RCEC to retrieve machines from the polling locations around the county and transport them to the headquarters for "repair," recharging, or merely to conduct the procedure.
21. This corrective action was not completed on Election Day, November 6, 2012.
22. No final results were released for Richland County elections on Election Day or early the next morning on November 7. RCEC released preliminary numbers for fewer than 25 percent of the County's 124 precincts that night or early the next morning.
23. Richland County is believed to be the only county that failed to release results on Election Day or early the next morning.
24. On November 7, 2012, at 8:00 a.m., RCEC staff returned to headquarters to resume retrieving and counting votes cast.
25. Despite repeated assurances by the Defendants that this process would be completed "soon," it dragged on throughout the entire day. Plaintiff and other observers received changing explanations throughout the day as to the reason for the delay.
26. The RCEC learned for the first time on November 7, that they needed to retrieve necessary election machinery abandoned at the polling locations in order to "close out" and tally vote totals.
27. Additionally, the RCEC solicited the assistance of a technician from the company that makes the voting machines to repair and retrieve votes from machines that were inoperable by the RCEC staff.
28. Information in four precincts in HD-75 remained unavailable for most of the day with various explanations being offered as to why vote totals from these machines were unavailable. These precincts were: North Forest Acres, Pennington, Ward 25, and Woodlands precincts.

29. Vote totals for Pennington and Ward 25 were provided to Plaintiff and other election observers at 12:24 p.m. Vote totals for Woodlands were provided at approximately 3:30 p.m. and vote totals for North Forest Acres were provided at approximately 4:15 p.m.
30. Based on these preliminary totals, Democrat Joe McCulloch led his opponent, Republican Kirkman Finlay by 38 votes.
31. At this time, some but not all of the absentee ballots had been reported as reflected in a 12:24 summary provided to Plaintiff and other election observers (Exhibit A).
32. Typically there are three types of "absentee" ballots.
33. In-person absentee are cast on voting machines at the RCEC headquarters prior to Election Day. These votes are cast on voting machines no differently than in a polling location.
34. Mail-in absentees are sent to voters via U.S. Mail and returned the same. These ballots are marked on a paper Scantron sheet and scanned by a reader that totals them.
35. Finally, Uniformed Overseas Citizen Absentee Voting Act (UOCAVA) ballots, are ballots that are sent to military and civilians overseas. These ballots can be transmitted via mail, email, or fax and returned via the same.
36. UOCAVA ballots that are not returned in a machine-readable format were transmitted by hand onto a new machine-readable ballot by a variety of unknown individuals.
37. The 12:24 summary produced by the RCEC reported four categories of absentee votes but only reflected totals in three of those categories. "Absentee 3" reported that McCulloch led Finlay, 201 votes to 145, respectively.

38. Defendants told observers that Absentee 3 was a “combination” of these absentee voting types.
39. At 6:20 p.m., the RCEC provided a final summary that updated vote totals for Absentee 1, 2 & 3.
40. In Absentee 3, Finlay added 267 votes to his prior total for a total of 412 votes. (Exhibit B)
41. McCulloch did not add a single vote in category Absentee 3.
42. As of the RCEC’s 6:20 p.m. summary, Finlay now leads McCulloch by 265 votes with 6771 to 6506.
43. When confronted with the fact that Absentee 3 added 267 – a determinative margin – to Finlay’s total without adding a single vote for McCulloch, Defendants had no explanation for how this was possible.
44. Significantly, even though Defendants had paper and UOCAVA absentee ballots in their possession before any other ballots these were the last ballots to be counted and also provided Finlay with a lead by a determinative margin.
45. Not one of South Carolina’s other 45 counties experienced the widespread failures suffered by Richland County voters.
46. The grossly incompetent manner in which the RCEC conducted the 2012 general election has been widely reported by the South Carolina press corps and is not reasonably in dispute. See Exhibit C.

DEFENDANTS FAILED TO PROVIDE, MAINTAIN AND REPAIR VOTING MACHINES IN THE CONDUCT OF THE ELECTION

47. S.C. Code Section 7-13-1680 states:

The governing body of any county or municipality providing voting machines at polling places for use at elections shall provide for each polling place at least one voting machine for each two hundred fifty registered voters or portion thereof or as near thereto as may be practicable. The machines shall be of the type approved as provided for in this title and shall be kept in complete and accurate working order and in proper repair. The machines may be used in such election districts or precincts in the county or municipality as the officials holding the election or conducting the primary may determine. The governing body of the county or municipality owning the machines shall have custody of such machines and other furniture or equipment of the polling places when not in use at an election.

S.C. Code Ann. § 7-13-1680 (emphasis added)

48. S.C. Code Section 7-13-1680 states:

If any vote recorder being used in any election shall become out of order during such election, it shall be repaired, if possible, or another vote recorder substituted by the custodian or county election officials as promptly as possible, for which purpose the governing body of the county may purchase as many extra vote recorders as it may deem necessary, but in case such repair or substitution cannot be made, paper ballots, printed or written and of any suitable form, may be used for the taking of votes.

S.C. Code Ann. § 7-13-1470

49. Defendants have failed to comply with these mandates resulting in a widespread failure as publically reported and not reasonably in dispute.

DEFENDANTS ILLEGAL PROCEDURE TO REPLICATE UOCAVA BALLOTS

50. Upon information and belief, Defendants are illegally replicating UOCAVA ballots by hand for the purpose of using a machine to count the ballots.
51. As explained above, UOCAVA ballots can be returned via email or fax. See S.C. Code Ann. §§ 7-15-405 & -406.
52. These ballots are not machine-readable.
53. Even though these ballots are not defaced, Defendants are none-the-less replicating them by hand. This procedure is prohibited by the statute concerning defaced ballots which establishes the exclusive circumstances under which election officials can replicate ballots. S.C. Code Section 7-13-1410 states, in relevant part, that:

Provided, that if it appears that a ballot is so torn, bent, or otherwise defaced or has been marked by other than the marking device, so that it cannot be counted by the automatic tabulating equipment, the county election commission may cause a duplicate of each such ballot to be marked so that it can be so counted. Such duplicate ballots, when so authorized by the commission, shall be prepared at the counting station in the presence of witnesses and substituted for the original ballots, which duplicate ballots shall be counted by the automatic tabulating equipment. The original ballots shall be preserved and all such duplicate ballots shall be clearly labeled with the word "duplicate" and shall bear a serial number which shall also be recorded on the original. At the counting station, write-in votes tabulated by the precinct officials shall be added to the results from ballots tabulated with the automatic tabulating equipment and the totals certified as the precinct count on the summary sheet.

S.C. Code Ann. § 7-13-1410

54. Upon information and belief, none of the non-machine readable, UOCAVA ballots were torn, bent or otherwise defaced.
55. Upon further information and belief, no witnesses were present during these replication and substitution despite the presence of Plaintiff, other observers and members of the South Carolina press corp.

IRREGULARITIES IN VOTE TOTALS REMAIN UNEXPLAINED BY DEFENDANTS

56. Defendants have also offered no explanation for numerous irregularities in the reported vote totals.
57. Defendants have offered no explanation for how the final absentee update could add 267 votes to Finlay's total but not a single vote to McCulloch's total for the Absentee 3 category.
58. Defendants have offered no explanation for what types of absentee votes are included in the Absentee 3 category.

59. Defendants have offered no explanation for why HD-75 has not reported a single vote in category Absentee 4, as compared to numerous other elections in Richland County reporting votes in that category.
60. Defendants have offered changing explanations for the nature, extent and timing of problems resulting in the delayed reporting of vote totals from voting machines. This process took an unprecedented 36 hours from the time the polls closed until preliminary reports were available.

PRAYER FOR A TEMPORARY RESTRAINING ORDER

61. Pursuant to Rules 64 and 65, SCRPC, Plaintiff respectfully seeks an ex parte temporary restraining order
62. "Pursuant to Rule 65(b), SCRPC, a trial judge can issue a temporary restraining order without providing notice where it clearly appears from specific facts shown by affidavit or by verified complaint that immediate or irreparable injury, loss or damage will result to the applicant before notice can be served and a hearing had thereon." Zabinski v. Bright Acres Associates, 346 S.C. 580, 600-01, 553 S.E.2d 110, 120 (2001).
63. As previously alleged, Defendants have demonstrated that the conduct and counting of the 2012 general election has and is being conducted in a grossly incompetent manner resulting in widespread illegality and irregularity.
64. These illegalities and irregularities appear to be outcome determinative in HD-75 where the contest appears to be very close and dictated by a change in only a few hundred votes.
65. Failure to intervene immediately and seize the voting machines, all ballots cast, and all equipment necessary to conduct an accurate count of the votes in HD-75 may prevent any accurate count or recount from occurring.

66. This would not only harm the Plaintiff, who has an interest in electing its candidate to HD-75, but would also harm the public who has a strong interest in the open, honest and accurate conduct of its elections.
67. Accordingly, Plaintiff respectfully requests an Order from this Court:
- i. That the Richland County Sherriff seize all voting machines, ballots cast and machinery necessary to count the votes case in HD-75;
  - ii. That the Sherriff deliver these materials to SLED for safekeeping until an emergency hearing can be held;
  - iii. That the Court hold an emergency hearing to determine the extent and nature of the illegalities and irregularities alleged here and discovered through sworn testimony;
  - iv. That the Court order an audit and count of all votes cast in HD-75, regardless of manner cast, by a competent, independent authority of the Court's choosing; and
  - v. That the Court order all other relief that it deems just and proper.

Richland voting mess 'violated law'

Legislators to probe voting machine, poll worker shortage

Richland County election officials might have broken state election laws by having too few voting machines in place as complaints have surfaced from precinct captains that they received a lot fewer machines than usual.

The county also has been pelted with complaints from irate voters, more than in any other election in memory, a spokesman for the S.C. Election Commission said Wednesday, as politicians call for a public inquiry of what went wrong – and maybe even a new election.

Some critics called for the head of elections director Lillian McBride, who has held her $86,394 post since July 2011 when the county merged its voter registration and elections offices. Some voters waited in line up to seven hours. Some left the polls without voting. And at least 20 percent of precincts, plus absentee ballots, weren't counted until Wednesday evening, as key races hung in the balance.

State election laws require one voting machine for every 250 registered voters or "portion thereof or as near thereto as may be practicable," according to the language of the statute.

Voters across the county – as well as some precinct managers – said the number of machines was down from previous years, in an election where officials were expecting near-record voter turnout.

State law also requires local election officials to have one poll worker for every 250 registered voters. McBride's office has not said how many people staffed the county's 124 precincts Tuesday.

McBride declined The State newspaper's requests Wednesday for interviews, citing the crunch of late vote counting that continued almost 24 hours after polls closed.

But the newspaper's analysis of the latest registration data provided Wednesday by McBride's Elections & Voter Registration office shows about 245,000 registered voters.

That means county election officials should have put as many as 982 machines into precincts.

The wait was over four hours to vote at Rice Creek Elementary on Hard Scrabble Road in Columbia during election day Tuesday. Lines went down two hallways that fed into where the voting machines were located.

Machines required by law

McBride's deputy, Gary Baum, provided the newspaper on Wednesday the precinct-by-precinct tally of registered voters that totaled 245,328.

State elections spokesman Chris Whitmire said the law requires local elections officials to calculate the number of machines based on "active" voters, not just those who have registered to vote. Whitmire said his office has a list provided by the county on Nov. 2 showing 244,923 active voters. Baum did not say the figures he provided the newspaper had been purged of inactive or no-longer-qualified voters.

McBride's office has yet to say precisely how many machines were distributed.

But Baum said Tuesday night the number was between 750 and 800 of the 1,000 machines the county has. He said unused machines were broken and a couple dozen were assigned to election headquarters for "fail safe" voters, those who had moved within the county and had notified election officials.

Baum said he did not know why all of the 200 to 250 machines went unused.

The law's "as near thereto as practicable" language gives local election officials some "wiggle room" on a precise number of machines required, Whitmire said.

But the law has no teeth. It carries no penalty for violating it, other than lawsuits, he said.

Poll workers complain

Many precinct captains of the county's 124 precincts said they received fewer machines on Tuesday than usual.

"During the (GOP) primary (in June), we had eight when only 50 people voted," a manager from the Lincolnshire precinct said Tuesday night as she stood in line with her counterparts at elections headquarters in the county administration building. She said her precinct was given six for the presidential election Tuesday, and that one broke.

Poll workers from the A.C. Moore, Keenan, Dutch Fork and Pontiac precincts had fewer machines than in past elections.

Nancy Brock, a poll worker for 27 years in Richland County, said Wednesday she was stunned to learn that her voting location received half the number of usual machines. Her A.C. Moore Elementary School precinct typically receives six machines. Tuesday it got three, Brock said.

Precinct workers asked a county representative who visited the school Monday to provide at least one more machine. "We pleaded for another machine," Brock said. "The answer was obviously no."

This time, the county didn't ask her how many machines were needed, in contrast to former longtime elections director Mike Cinnamon, whom Brock said checked regularly with poll workers.

Frank Sarnowski, poll clerk at the Ward 33 precinct in Martin Luther King Park near Five Points, said he also was not asked by the county how many voting machines were needed. The county usually provides five machines. The precinct got three this time.

"I asked for more," Sarnowski said Wednesday. "They said that was all that was available. They didn't say why."

McBride said Tuesday her staff did ask some poll workers how many machines they needed.

The problem was made worse when machines broke down in possibly dozens of locations.

State law requires one voting machine or more per 250 voters at a precinct. Some examples reported Tuesday:

Keenan Precinct, voting at Sanders Middle School. Voters said there were four machines, one used for curbside voting. Registered voters: 1,873. Machines required under the state's formula: At least seven

Ward 34, voting at Pinehurst Park. Voters said the precinct was down to two machines before a third came online. Registered voters: 1,210. Machines required under the state's formula: At least four

Dutch Fork 2, voting at Dutch Fork Middle School. Voters said there were two machines on Tuesday; there are usually 10. Registered voters: 3,001. Machines required under the state's formula: At least 12

Whitmire told The Associated Press that state officials sent extra voting machines to some polling places in the county and that they also dispatched extra technicians to service broken machines.

The shortage of machines available does not appear to be tied to the budget for McBride's office.

County Council granted her the full $1,228,574 McBride requested for the fiscal year that began July 1, county spokeswoman Melinda R. Edwards said in an email to the newspaper. The fiscal year before, Council added about $153,000 to McBride's budget request of $1,105,765, according to the email.

"They got the most money they've ever had," County Councilman Seth Rose said.

With the highly contested penny sales tax and a couple of tight political races hanging in the balance Wednesday, McBride and her staff stayed busy feeding paper absentee ballots into a counting machine, which had broken down at about 1 a.m. and didn't get rolling again until about 10 a.m. Technicians scrambled to unlock information stored in some voting machines that had malfunctioned during the process of consolidating votes from multiple machines at the same precinct.

Political fallout

McBride and Baum kept political operatives and reporters gathered at the office up-to-date on the count, but they declined to explain what went wrong or why the day before.

They said the office would issue a news release, but none had been sent by 9:30 p.m.

Tuesday night, as frustrated voters waited in lines after the polls closed – some unable to vote until nearly midnight, McBride repeatedly put off interview requests from the newspaper as well as television reporters. However, she spoke with a State newspaper reporter about 5:30 p.m. before polls closed and blamed the troubles on her predecessor.

She has made no public statement since.

State Reps. James Smith and Todd Rutherford and County Council chairman Kelvin Washington and Councilman Joe McEachern were among the politicians gathered at McBride's office Wednesday.

Smith and Rutherford held an impromptu news conference to announce the delegation will conduct a hearing on the voting problems, as soon as next week.

"We plan to focus on accountability and how we make sure this doesn't happen again," Smith said.

"We're going to get to the bottom of this," Rutherford said. "It's not only outrageous, it violated the law. ... We're not sitting here apologizing for it. We know something didn't go right."

They said they don't know whether machines weren't serviced properly or whether the poll workers weren't sufficiently trained.

State law requires keeping machines voting-ready and poll workers trained.

While Smith and Rutherford, both Democrats, were reluctant to say whether the problems determined the outcome of races, they agreed that many voters gave up because of the long waits, losing their right to vote.

Rep. Nathan Ballentine, a Republican from Chapin who represents portions of Richland and Lexington counties, called the problems inexcusable and aimed his criticism at McBride.

"At this point, I'd be hard-pressed to say she needs to be in charge of the next" election, Ballentine said.

Richland Councilwoman Val Hutchinson, who won a squeaker of a re-election to a third term Wednesday night, said she's part of a group looking into contesting the election and asking for a "revote."

"We think there have been enough complaints countywide that it warrants looking into what happened during this election, correcting it and holding another election," said Hutchinson, one of three Republicans on the 11-member Richland County Council.

Rep. Joe Neal, D-Richland said, "This was a nightmare, a massive failure of voting machines across the county."

Legislators were assured the voting process would run smoothly, Neal said. "We were all led to believe there would be no problem."

Early voting laws?

Whitmire said the difficulties underscore the need for a state law allowing early voting. Dozens of bills have failed to get through the Legislature, the state elections office spokesman said.

Meanwhile, the leader of the county's legislative delegation, Sen. Darrell Jackson, D-Richland, said Wednesday that McBride, top members of her staff and Richland County Election Commission chairman Liz Crum, an election law specialist, will testify next Tuesday before a group of local and state officials about the voting snafus.

The delegation selects the 15-member elections commission, and the delegation unanimously selected McBride over Cinnamon, who had directed county elections since 1975, to run the office.

The hearing is slated for 11 a.m. Tuesday in the Senate Gressette office building's Judiciary Committee room on the State House grounds, Jackson said.

The public may attend. But if a crowd shows up, the location might change, he said.

Cinnamon, who retired last year after 40 years of managing elections in Richland County, said Wednesday he had never encountered problems like those that occurred Tuesday.

McBride told The State on Tuesday afternoon that Cinnamon had not left information on "how many (machines) they may have used in the past."

If the county needed guidance from past elections, Cinnamon said Wednesday, there are two sets of records available to McBride's staff: an election file showing the number of machines in past elections and election returns, which show the number of machines used.

Asked whether her office called Cinnamon for advice, McBride said, "I'll plead the 5th on that one."

Amid all the political fallout, a voter who contacted the newspaper put all the heated rhetoric into perspective.

Tom Eggleston, a minister who voted in the Riverwalk precinct near Irmo, said he was as frustrated as other voters about waiting more than four hours on a chilly morning to cast his ballot.

"As I stood in line for four hours and 15 minutes to vote ... it dawned on me," Eggleston wrote in a letter to The State newspaper. "How does my four hours and 15 minutes compare to the soldier who is out in the trenches everyday protecting my freedom? How does my four hours and 15 minutes compare to the homeless man who is out on the street with no place to go?"

"Standing in line is a privilege because it allows each of us the ability to cast our voice for freedom."

Columbia, SC (WLTX) - Kirkman Finlay has won State House District 75.

Final results released just after 6:30 p.m. Wednesday showed Finlay, a Republican, defeated Democrat Joe McCulloch by a final vote tally of 6,771 to 6,506.

A string of problems which took place on election day led to the delay in results. Malfunctioning machines (or too few at some precincts) led to long lines and people casting ballots hours after the polls closed. A broken scanner stopped vote counting in the middle of the night, and that effort didn't resume until mid Wednesday morning.

McCulloch was leading after the electronic ballots were counted, but was edged out when absentees were tabulated.

Finlay would take over for Jim Harrison, who didn't seek re-election. Finlay, a local restaurateur, previously served on the Columbia City Council and ran

Lawmakers Launch Investigation Into Richland Election Problems

Columbia, SC (WLTX) -- Lawmakers are launching an investigation into what caused problems at the polls in Richland County, like long lines and broken machines.

"We know that somebody messed up and we're gonna find out who that person is," said Rep. Todd Rutherford.

"It is outrageous that someone would have to take four hours from their work to vote. That is denying, I think, to that fundamental right," said Rep. James Smith.

Both lawmakers showed up at the county election office with questions about what went wrong at the polls.

"To figure out what happened, to find out who's responsible," said Rutherford. "To make sure it never happens again."

The entire Richland County legislative delegation will join with Richland County council member for a hearing next Tuesday at 11 a.m. to get answers on what happened, but Rutherford already has an idea about one thing that wasn't right in many county precincts.

"It violated the law, we in the state house make sure that there's one machine for every 250 people voting in a precinct that was not present yesterday," said Rutherford.

"We're gonna make sure the public understands what occurred so they can have confidence and know that there's gonna be a legitimate fix in place and it's not gonna be a problem going forward," said Smith.

South Carolina Republican Chairman Chad Connelly has also called for an independent investigation into the Richland County Election .

"The voting problems in Richland County are absolutely unacceptable. Voters should not have to stand in line for three or more hours, or wait until 2AM, to cast their ballots. And it has taken all day TODAY - 24 hours after the polls closed - to tally votes," said Connelly. He says all voters deserve better from their government.

COLUMBIA, SC (WIS) - Long lines, few machines, and lots of voter frustration were just a few of the issues the Richland County Election Commission dealt with on Tuesday as a higher than expected turnout caused headaches for voters and poll workers.

Voters from Pontiac Elementary School to Ridge View High School reported lines between 4 and 6 hours long.

So what happened that turned a fairly simple process into a test of patience?

We went straight to the head of the Richland County Election Commission to get answers.

Complaints rolled in just after the polls opened of too few voting machines for 4,700 registered voters at Ridge View High. State law requires 19 machines. We spotted 10, and one was broken, sparking arguments between poll workers and voters.

Poll workers told us the precinct was down to six machines for most of the day.

"They've been waiting here the same amount of time, so everyone is aggravated, but they feel that it's a need to stay here and vote," said Owens.

The story was exactly the same in Ward 25.

"I'm going home to get some hot dogs, Cokes and sell them to people in line, give the money to the elections commission," joked one Ward 25 voter.

We went to the Election Commission around midnight and watched as voting machines rolled in. We also found Elections Director Lillian McBride, who was unable to talk because she was beginning the process of checking the voter machines.

We spent the next two hours waiting for McBride and her staff to finish checking in voting machines. At 2:30 a.m., we watched the last machine come in, then went to find the director.

McBride said she was unsure what happened to cause fewer machines to be available, but she did say that enough machines were out for the election.

"We'll find out tomorrow and go over and see exactly what happened and whatever. We'll make sure we take care of it so it won't happen in the future," said McBride.

The South Carolina Elections Commission calls it ridiculous.

"There's no reason a voter should have to wait in line six hours to vote," said Chris Whitmire, spokesman for the state Elections Commission. "That's unacceptable."

Especially when that wasn't the case four years ago and the turnout was closer to 2004, which also didn't see the problems of this year. The Election Commission heard from voters about the lack of machines compared to the numbers standing in line. There is a state standard.

"State law sets a standard of one voting machine for every 250 registered voters," said Whitmire.

That law also provides some leeway, allowing officials to be or as near there as to what maybe practical.

The state law bases it off of registered voters in that precinct," said Garry Baum with Richland County Elections Commission. "We also use other numbers such as historical voter turnout. Depending on what elections are going on in what precincts."

If a county doesn't comply, we found there's no one enforcing the state law or punishing those who don't meet it.

"[Richland County] is going to have to take a close look at their plan for allocating voting machine, allocating poll managers, and other resources on Election Day," said Whitmire.

State Election Commission officials say every voting machine should have been tested in advance of yesterday with test ballots run.

The county denied our request to interview the elections director Wednesday morning or to provide details on what happened.

However, the county did provide a statement on its website, saying they made "every effort to get additional voting machines and to provide technical assistance to fix voting machines that went down."

"We will conduct a thorough investigation to determine what can be done in the future, whether it be to purchase additional machines or ask the legislature to establish additional precincts to reduce wait times or other measures that may be identified."
