I am Chief Green with the Wellford City police department. I have known Sydney for over a year. I met Sydney last year when she applied for a position with the Wellford police department. I thought she was very professional and organized. I hired Sydney and placed her in the police reserve class where she did outstanding scoring very high on her test and practical skills. I was very impressed with her skills and her time management with work and family. I know that Sydney loves her son very much and talked about him all the time. I feel like Sydney is a good mom and has all the skills and morals needed to raise a son and family on her own.

I would also like to include that I was made aware of the situation regarding Sydney's ex-boyfriend, [REDACTED] and how he was very harassing and causing problems with her jobs for as I worked with her. Sydney had expressed to me how stressful it is to have to deal with everything and how much Sydney wanted to pursue a career in law enforcement, but [REDACTED] has made that hard for her since he has been filing false police reports about her and trying to make her look bad when all she wanted to do is provide for my son and work in Law enforcement.

I know firsthand that he has made at least one false report saying that Sydney was impersonating a police officer. I issued her a Wellford police department shirt when she worked for us and was indeed a officer in training. Its report is like this that is unnecessary and unfounded that cause undue stress and affects her job as an officer at any department.

Please reach out to me if there are any more questions I can help with. Thanks.
